

American Telesis prepares Agents for the Ethernet Boom

Channel Partners Conference & Expo sponsor American Telesis (Booth 1505), a private line, Ethernet and MPLS network provider, announces a new training program, "Ethernet – Are you Prepared?"

"With the WAN bandwidth demand continuing to grow, we felt that it is very important to arm our agents with the tools to sell networks that meet every expectation of their customer", said Heather Selbert, Vice President of Operations for American Telesis. "The demand for Ethernet services will continue to grow and agents that can guide a customer through the network planning process will be very successful. We have designed a training course that outlines the different Ethernet delivery methods and how those methods are suited for various customer applications. We use examples drawn from actual network installations to show agents how real customers use various types of Ethernet to strengthen their networks."

Be prepared for the networks of the future. This Ethernet training course will help you look at networks in a whole new way, whether you need access to the Internet, access to an MPLS network, or site to site Ethernet Private Line. Stop by American Telesis Booth 1505 to get more information and to set up a training schedule.
