

be confident, safe and secure

Lawrence S. Feldman, President - UTA, Inc. states:

"I would like to give you a well deserved thank you for an easy-to-reach source to help with a seamless solution for Frame Relay Service. The barriers to conducting business with American Telesis are few and I can't find a better provider of network services.

My time working with you and the service overall at American Telesis are the best I have seen in a single company effort in the communication business.

The single point of contact to conduct business and the integration of client sites on invoicing eliminates many barriers for myself and the client in your tailored solutions.

Please keep up the same level of business services and targeting needs for the opportunities to enhance my customers' consistent network upgrades and service related questions. The provisioning group throughout the facilities installation is first class.

I recommend American Telesis to all my customers for reliable end-to-end network needs. Also your back office infrastructure and high reliability are what my associates and clients demand."

Our Commitment and Circuit Integrity is Unmatched in the Industry.
